seats in the entire lower floor for the evening performances at the Novelty Theater will be 20 cents each thereafter, instead of 15 cents as at present. Seats in the balcony will remain 10 cents each and there will be no change in matinee prices, which will remain 10 cents for any seat in the house excepting the boxes. The only change will be in the price for seats on the lower floor for the evening

This slight advance in evening prices on the lower floor is necessitated for several reasons. High class vaudeville acts demand larger salaries, operating expenses are higher than formerly and another reason is that we desire to give to the people of Topeka better shows than have ever been offered in the city at a low price of admission. We will not consent to reduce expenses by cutting down the quality of programs and we believe the public will prefer to pay a trifle more for the downstairs seats in return for better shows. The management has arranged with the booking office to secure the highest grade vandeville acts that can be obtained anywhere and the people of Topeka will be enabled to witness the very best attractions that can be secured. The change in price of seats on the lower floor will go into effect next Monday evening, December 14.

Street Naming Question Stirs Up the Councilmen.

Tradition and Sentiment Isn't Cast to the Winds.

BIG LOBBY PRESENT.

There to Protest Against Proposed Changes.

Another Effort Will Be Made to Straighten Out Tangle.

The street naming proposition before the city council is getting to be a serious joke. Ever since the matter was suggested not long ago the council has wasted on an average of two hours a meeting over it and the special committee appointed for its untanglement has spent hours and days in an attempt to satisfy the majority of the people and still maintain the street naming system used by the city.

But it was proved at the council meeting last night that the matter was too important to trifle with and citi-too important to trifle with and citizens all over the city were up in arms over the thing. When the mayor suggested that the street naming question be brought before the council last night the council chamber was crowded with residents of the streets in question. Every man and every woman had a speech up his or her sleeve and if it wasn't for the excellent foresight and executive ability of the time fighting mayor the council would have been in session this morning and over the same old fight.

The whole trouble with the street naming changes in Topeka is that the people are too selfish about the district in which they live. Half of the proposed changes are opposed by a petition which borders upon some landmark or sentiment and when the signers back their petition by winning over their councilmen and trying to spread a wave of passion over the business men in the council it makes matters all the worse. Last night there were tear-inspiring speeches and speeches that lacked everything but sentiment and beautifully constructed sentences. Some people resort to this for their armor and the committee which made its final report resorted to a month of actual chasing about the city and studying every situation.

However, the city council is as much to blame as any of the petitioners

However, the city council is as much to blame as any of the petitioners for the delay in settlement. For instance, last night members of the council took the floor and repudiated their own committee—and still they complained because the matter was not settled and because it took time.

When he had acquired the floor last night the people sat behind him in breathless silence. Then in flowery language sprinkled with the tears of past inspirations the councilman-orator commenced. Eczema Began When a Tiny Baby and Lasted 7 Years—Tore Crusts from Face Till It was All Raw-Screamed with Pain and Could not Sleep—Though Specialists Failed

CUTICURA EFFECTED A WONDERFUL CURE

"When my little boy was six weeks old an eruption broke out on his face. I took him to a doctor and got ointments and medicines but his face kept on getting worse until it got so bad that no one could look at him. His whole face was one crust and must have been very painful. He scratched day and night until his face sometimes looked like a raw piece of meat. I was nearly insane with his scratching day and night. Then I took him to all the best specialists in skin diseases but they could not do much for him. He sometimes screamed with pain when I put on the salve they gave me. "When he was two years old the exame got on his arms and legs so that I had to keep them bandaged up and I made gloves for his hands so the nails could not poison him worse. We could not get a night's sleep in months and my husband and I were all broken up. Then my mother asked why I did not give up the doctors and try Cuticura. So I got a set and he felt relioved the first time I used them, the Cuticura Ointment felt so cool. He used to wake up and ask for Cuticura to be put on when he itched so badly that he could not sleep, and he would say. "Oh! Mama, that makes my sores feel so good!" I gave the Cuticura Remedles a good trial and gradually the eczema healed all up and now he is as well as any other children. He is now seven years old and the cure has lasted two months, so I think it will never return. I can't tell you how glad I am that Cuticura did such wonderful work in our case and I shall recommend it everywhere. Mrs. John G. Klumpp, 80 Ningara St., Newark, N. J., Oct. 17 and 22, 1907."

But Mayor Green was on executive edge last night. He watched the deviations from the subject matter on hand and when a man tried to soften the hearts of the stern councilmen with words of sentiment the mayor tapped his gavet and called him down. When Mr. Kutz had finished his sermon Mr. Green said:
"We are talking about the motion before the house and not any side comments. Does anybody have anything to say?"

sparks flew from these quarters for a few minutes before Mayor Green could be heard.

During all this time General Hughes had been silent—silent before the gaze of the admiring multitude which could not keep its eyes off his broad expanse of white vest and checkerboard trousers. Cigarette after cigarette had been lighted and when the right temperature had been worked up the general gained the floor and said: "Don't bring any other town into Topeka, especially Emporla—avenue" and before he could proceed the audience gave him an avalanche of cheers followed by a second round equal to that which might be produced by three brass bands. The general was touched by the glad hand of the people and giving them a military bow "I thank you, this was unexpected."

Councilman Hughes suggested that the streets be taken up one by one and voted upon. This was done for about five streets and then came one of the puzzlers. A chorus of "No's" floated over the council chamber taken up by the audience in the rear. Then more applause and another plea from a councilman. Mayor Green

Then more applause and another plea from a councilman. Mayor Green saw the utter uselessness in trying to carry out such a plan and he enter-tained another motion to the effect that the matter should be put under the table again. This was done after a half hour battle in which Hughes and Stanley fought over the presidents of the United States. Arthur, Johnson and Hayes were the men in question and all of their American history was butchered until it could be explained that Topeka had no use for Johnson. This settled it and it was proposed that Howard, Kutz and Huchas he placed Hughes be placed on a committee to settle the whole street naming ques-tion. Some way or other this created

W. G. Tandy and G. H. Kutz got into a warm argument over the discussion last night in which the former said he did not take much stock in the kind of talk used by the latter.
